

The Four Firsts Women Rabbis in American Judaism

Thursday, April 30, 2015
7:00 p.m.
Congregation Beth-El Zedeck
600 West 70th Street Indianapolis

You are invited to join us for

An Extraordinary Evening in Indianapolis

Rabbi Sally Priesand
Reform
Ordained in 1972

Rabbi Sandy Eisenberg Sasso
Reconstructionist
Ordained in 1974

Rabbi Amy Ellberg
Conservative
Ordained in 1985

Rabba Sara Hurwitz
Orthodox
Ordained in 2009

The first women rabbis from each of the four movements in American Judaism will come together to tell their stories of unparalleled struggles for acceptance, recognition, and equality.

Rabbi Sally Priesand, Rabbi Sandy Eisenberg Sasso, Rabbi Amy Ellberg, and Rabba Sara Hurwitz will share their inspiring narratives and experiences in a panel discussion moderated by Dr. Gary Zola, Director of the American Jewish Archives.

What was it like to be the first? How different were their lives as a result? How different are our lives because of women like them? How much has changed, and what is the future? Join us for the answers to these and other questions, or pose your own.

The program is free and open to the public.

Made possible through the Judaism, Arts, Interfaith and Civic Engagement Fund
in honor of Rabbis Dennis and Sandy Sasso.

Sponsorship opportunity available. For more information contact
Jennifer Hodes, 317/253-3441 or jhodes@bez613.org